

Talking Points: Majority Rule, Without a Separate Election

Q: What is instant runoff voting?

"Instant runoff voting (IRV) means better elections."

- You rank candidates in the order you like them, so if your top choice doesn't win, your vote goes to your next choice, instead of being "wasted."
- If no one has a majority on the first count, the least-popular candidate is knocked off and those voters' next choice counts instead. This repeats until one candidate earns a majority.

Q: What's the problem with the way we do it now?

"Right now our elections can't guarantee majority rule."

- The more candidates run, the fewer votes you need to win. This means a small minority of voters can decide the election for everyone else.

"Runoffs are a waste of time and money."

- Runoffs are supposed to produce a candidate with a higher level of support. In practice, voter turnout dwindles when second elections are held, actually giving us a candidate elected by fewer people. Given the cost and effort of holding a runoff, we need a better way.

Q: How does it strengthen democracy?

"It guarantees majority support without runoffs."

- Every vote counts equally and no vote is "wasted" or "spoiled."

"Everyone wins with instant runoff voting."

- Voters win. You can vote for the candidate you really believe in, without worrying about throwing your vote away.
- Taxpayers win. IRV stops us from wasting money on expensive, ineffective runoffs.
- Candidates win. We will have less negative campaigning, since candidates want their opponents' voters to rank them #2.
- America wins. IRV restores faith in democracy by accommodating voter choice and inspiring better candidates to run for office.

Q: Who supports IRV?

"Leaders from across the political spectrum support it, from John McCain to Barack Obama."

- Also, voters nationwide chose IRV. Cities like San Francisco CA, Burlington VT and Takoma Park, MD. Many countries and U.S. colleges use it as well!

Plurality's Real Name: Minority Rule

The more people run, the fewer votes it takes to win. Should we be electing our leaders without a majority?
